

Data Sciences Corporation collaborates with Commvault Authorised Support Program partners

Data Sciences Corporation has linked with CASP partners making it the second organisation in South Africa to achieve this status. Its aim is to provide the South African partners with the same support they provide to its global partners. Commvault customers in South Africa will now receive support from partners who speak their languages and in the same time zone.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>