

Designer Amor goes live

The Designer Amor website went live yesterday, 1 December 2011, with the Boguslavsky sisters behind the project. The fashion blogging sisters are hoping to change the way people shop online by partnering with fashion designers who will create one of a kind pieces for Designer Amor and will allow the public to have input into the creative design process. To be part of this fashion community, go to its website, www.designeramor.com or its Facebook Page www.facebook.com/DesignerAmor.
