

DJs and their radio pranks!

I just read an article online about Nigel Pierce being suspended from Good Hope FM.

For those who haven't read the article, Pierce persuaded a guest on one of the station's shows to walk out of the SABC in Sea Point with a computer. This was obviously to see what the response would be from security personnel. The problem, however, is that the security guards were unaware of this and the head was furious when he found out.

The result - Pierce suspended ... again!

Finally, the point I am trying to make. I enjoy an odd prank or two and I don't see the sense in suspending the guy. The head should focus his attention on his security team. If one guy could walk out with merchandise, then anyone can.
