

Bidvest Business Technologies targets improved content management

Konica Minolta South Africa, a division of Bidvest Office, has announced the establishment of Bidvest Business Technologies. Bidvest Business Technologies is its new managed print services, managed content services and rental asset management focused arm.

Their main drive is to allow clients to meet their business requirements by managing content throughout its life cycle, from capturing, processing, accessing, integration, measuring, and storage. Bidvest Business Solutions' approach includes all aspects of document production - from output and input, to storage and electronic archiving.
