

Lenovo to host second annual Tech World

Lenovo has announced that #LenovoTechWorld, the company's strategic technology conference, will be in San Francisco on 9 June 2016. The second annual conference brings together some of the industry's top leaders along with Lenovo chairman and CEO Yang Yuanqing for the keynote address where they'll probe promising and emerging topics in innovation, including virtual reality, smart connected devices/IoT and harnessing the power of the cloud to transform people's lives.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>