

Bad case of Yebo Feva

The Feva will find you this Summer. Beware!

What's this!? I just got an sms from Vodacom with the title "Vodacom festive faces". Being naive and thinking it was some lame festive greeting from the Mobile monster, I decided to open it up. To my horror I discovered it to be a full length mobile made-for-money ad! "Oh yes Bob, believe it!" Not only am I charged for downloading this ad, but I also get a brief glimpse of their cheesy marketing meerkat Mo. This stuff is contagious! Unless you want a bad case of the Yebo Feva, I suggest you delete their message immediately! ;)
