

False tele sales promotion

Amazingvouchers misleading promises.

Beware of amazingvouchers consultants false promises of "free vouchers" that can be redeemed without any problems. After discovering that i have been tricked into a two year contract of "free vouchers" that cannot be cancelled turns out that most of the companies listed on the website are not dealing with them anymore meaning that im paying for a service that doesnt benefit me, even if i tried! The extra costs involved make it even worse, should we not be protected from this?
