If you aren't digitising how your team connects and collaborates, chances are your competitors might be ahead of you in the game.

According to a Dell & Intel Future-Ready Workforce Study Global Report, 62% of global employees agree that artificial intelligence assistance could make their jobs easier.

In the free e-book, Increase Collaboration Across Your Team, IS provides you with the strategies to boost teamwork collaboration, decrease voice and telephony infrastructure costs and drive productivity in your organisation.

Seamless collaboration, effortless communication

Microsoft Teams, the hub for teamwork in Microsoft 365, enables your teams to communicate in real time, helping them make faster decisions, share content easily, and provide access to conversations, files, people and applications in one shared workspace.

With IS and Microsoft Teams you can:

1. Enhance your communication capabilities

Your business' communication capabilities and continuity will be dramatically enhanced with unparalleled functionality over fixed-line and traditional GSM mobile telephony.

2. Increase teamwork collaboration

Your employees can work more efficiently and stay connected wherever they are, on any device.

3. Optimise your costs

Teams Direct Routing is more cost-effective than traditional fixed-line and mobile telephony options, while also offering the efficiencies of utilising a converged network.

4. Provide a solution that can scale as you grow

You can easily increase capacity as your business grows.

5. Consolidate your technology

Simplifying infrastructure management with seamless support can be achieved by combining your data and voice traffic onto a single carrier/service provider.
