Free digital transformation toolkit

Q, in association with Recruit Digital, is making digital leadership attainable to all through a free download on how to transform your brand's digital and people capabilities.

The digital leadership toolkit highlights four key principles as well as a digital leadership model designed to accelerate the digital transformation process.

- insight to key principles that are essential for improving a company's digital and people capabilities
- action points to do so

- insight to a model designed to create a new way of transforming companies into digital leaders from the inside out
