

Naspers Centre Design competition closes 28 February

There is just one day to go before entries close for Design24, an official World Design Capital 2014 project that calls for concept proposals to reimagine the Naspers Centre on Cape Town's foreshore. The competition is open to all South Africans, whether they're designers or not. Total prize money on offer is R320,000, split between three winners. Proposals can be submitted at <http://design.24.com/submissions/>.
