

E-Talk goes beyond entertainment talk show

E-Talk, an entertainment talk show on GhONE entertainment television station has stepped up its game and introduced new segments which are set to make E-talk show the very best entertainment programme on television.

The talk show has since its inception been talking about issues in the entertainment industry, provided a platform for event organisers to publicise their events and also musicians and actors a chance to talk about their career with high profile interviews.

The new segments will not take away the core value of E-Talk but rather add more to make it more competitive and entertaining.

The new segments introduced are E Trivia, E video of the week, entertainment newspapers review and Hollywood updates. In the E Trivia segment, viewers get to answer questions from any entertainment area and also identify celebrities whose pictures have been scrambled. The correct answer will be sent to short code 1765 and the person, who answers the trivia correctly, gets to win an amazing prize.

Source: allAfrica