

GfK celebrate Mandela Day

GfK, a global market research company, started "Mandela Day Celebration" early by taking part in the Kaya FM 67km Relay for Mandela Day.

All done and dusted! The boys representing Team GfK well.

Chris Mahery & Benjamin Carpenter did the team proud as the last leg of the relay.

"It always seems impossible, until it's done." Proudly Team GfK in honour of Tata Mandela

Nothing like a cup of tea and team spirit to keep warm.

Team GfK results

Zhanna Ross & Anna-Mart Lynch were the first pair to kick off the relay for team GfK

Braving the cold and ready to go. Team GfK was all smiles before the race.

The folks at GfK showed great team spirit and in honour of the late former President Nelson Mandela, braved the cold in the early hours of Sunday morning and completed the relay. Fun was had by all and the team have already started planning on how to improve on their performance next year.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>